AL CEMING TO BE PRESENT AT FATHER AND SON BANQUET JUNE 19.

Cubs will be the centre of interest on the night of June 19 when a Father and Son Banquet will be put on for them in Drayton Valley Scout Hall, at 6:30.

About twenty-five will be presented at that time with their first Star, six or more will receive their second Star and about ten new boys will be awarded their Tenderpad badges.

Present for the banquet, as well as the Cubs and their dads will be members of the Boy Scout and Cub Scout groups committee, Rotarians, who have recently become the sponsors for the local Scout organizations, will be present also for the occasion.

Outstanding attraction for all will be the speaker for the evening, Al. Ceming an outstanding naturalist, wrestling promoter, and president of the Edmonton Zoological Society, a group which is making arrangements for the acquiring of a Zoo for the City of Edmonton.

Scout and Cub Mothers will cater for the dinner, and a varied program of entertainment will be put on.

Members of the Scout and Cub Committee are: Art Dixon, representing Rotary; Harvey McGee, chairman of the group; Jack Hayland and Mrs. Hayland, and Mike Burke. Rev. Mr. Sayers is Cubmaster.

Assisting Mr. Sayers in the Cub program is Dunc. McRae, Vern Broadford, Alec Grant, Don Booker, Jack Tyler and Danny Mallon.

LOCAL FIRMS SPONSOR ENTRIES IN SOAPBOX DERBY.

Three local lads will be racing their "bugs" down O'Connell Hill in Edmonton on June 15, starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Those from Drayton Valley participating in the races will be Stevie Serenas, who built his car last year and entered to become a winner in his class of under twelve years; John Bright, Jr. and Gary Repka.

The races are sponsored by the Active Club of Edmonton and are open to all.

boys between the ages of nine and fifteen. Last year's event drew many entries from a large number of places outside of Edmonton, as well as from the city itself.

Derby rules state that the boy has to build his "buggy" himself. He is supplied with wheels and axles by the Active Club, which are given to him on loan. He gets to keep them for a couple of weeks after the race in order to display his entry, and then he turns them back to the Active Club, and gets them again next year, if he continues to race.

Local sponsors for Soap Box Derby entries are the Drayton Hardware, Pembina Drugstore, Bales Shopping Centre, Gardum Theatre, Drayton Valley Greeneries and the Pembina News Advertiser.

Following the races a banquet is held in the Seven Seas for the boys. The banquet is free to the boys, and their parents, sponsors or friends can join in for $1.50 a plate.

GOLIAD TO BUILD HOUSES.

Goliad Company, operators of the multi-million dollar gas gathering construction project in this area announced recently that they will make an immediate start on the erection of a number of houses for employees who will be stationed here permanently once the gathering system is installed.

At least four houses, and possible five, will be built in Drayton Valley, four, with a possibility of five houses will be built at the fractionating plant site at Buck Creek, and one house will be built at each of the eight compressor plants throughout the field. The company may also erect a permanent office in Drayton Valley, although nothing definite has yet been announced in that respect.

Mr. Ben Williams recently came to the Drayton Valley office of Goliad Company in the capacity of General Superintendent. Mr. Preston Rae is Construction Engineer for this project, Mr. Elmo Milder will act as Superintendent of

KEN MASON'S COLUMN:

The battle over the route for a proposed new railway to the Northwest Territories raged with new intensity last week.

Residents of the Peace River country are up in arms because indications are that the federal government and the railways favor a route through McMurray, in north-eastern Alberta.

Word from Ottawa last week was that the railways will be granted $15,000,000. to $20,000,000. to get work started on the 400-mile line to mineral-rich Pine Point on the south shore of Great Slave Lake.

The line will mean a lot to Alberta, which now gets the bulk of the business done with the north. As the north develops, the volume of business handled by Alberta towns and cities will increase, and the north's contribution to the province's economy will become even more important.

Peace River people, naturally enough, want the railway to go through Grimshaw, in northwestern Alberta, and they're prepared to fight for it even though the economic odds appear to be stacked against them.

The railways and Ottawa appear to favor the more easterly route because of the freight tonnage available from the growing mining area around Uranium City, Sask.,. In addition, it would provide access to untapped areas of Alberta containing minerals, timber, oil, gas and hydro power potential.

However, according to the Peace River country, the McMurray route would benefit only private interests and a few others, while the Grimshaw route would serve the area with the greatest populations and the greatest prospect for future development.

Fence area chambers of commerce had organized a 100-car caravan to descend on Edmonton this week seeking provincial government support, but it had to be cancelled because of poor roads. Meanwhile, residents are flooding Ottawa with letters, and they plan to send Prime Minister Diefenbaker a telegram bearing 4,000 signatures.

Those who favor the McMurray route have not been sitting idly by while all this is going on. Last week the McMurray and Uranium City, Sask., chambers of commerce sent a delegation to seek support from the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

The conflict over the route puts Premier Manning and his government in an embarrassing position. Some time ago, the province pressed for the building of a railway through Grimshaw. But that was before McMurray came into the limelight as the route favored by Ottawa and the railways.

Mr Manning has three alternatives. He can support McMurray route and incur the wrath of the entire Peace River country; support the Grimshaw route, or remain silent and let Ottawa and the railways settle the issue.

So far, he has remained silent, but the Peace River people feel support from the province could mean victory for them. The Grande Prairie Chamber of Commerce has written the premier a letter asking him to take a definite stand, but so far he's declined to comment.

The thinking among many government officials and businessmen in Edmonton is that the more easterly route would be better for the economy of Alberta as a whole because it would assure Alberta the major share of business arising from development of the north.

The fear has been expressed that a railway through northwestern Alberta would be too close to British Columbia. It would be easy for northern commerce to be channelled away from Alberta into B.C. over the Pacific Great Western Railway.

This is a problem that is troubling the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce right now. Many individual members want to come out openly and support the McMurray route, but at the same time they don't want to administer a slap in the face to the Peace River country. The Edmonton Chamber deferred its decision on the request for support from the McMurray and Uranium City people.

Another problem facing the government is that if it supports the Grimshaw route it will be going against its own McGregor Royal Commission, which recommended that the line go through McMurray.

In its report, the commission said the business to be expected from the northern Saskatchewan uranium mining area would tip the economic scales in favor of the northeastern route.

Ottawa came up last week with what may be a happy solution. It was suggested that the Dominion and the province get together on a huge road improvement program for northwestern Alberta, and give the railway to the northeastern section.

This is in line with what the McGregor Commission suggested. It also called for the building of an east-west road, which would put every point in Alberta within 100 miles of either a railway or a highway.

DEANERY MEETING:

BY: Peggy Tyler.

On Wednesday, June 4, seven ladies of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary of Drayton Valley motored to Kapasiwin for the annual meeting of the Pembina Deanery.

Those who made the trip were: Mrs Halliday, president of the Pembina Deanery, Mrs Williams, Mrs Kynock, Mrs Stirling, Mrs Borquay, Mrs Shalmers and Mrs Tyler. Accompanying the ladies was Mrs MacLure, the guest speaker, and Rev. Swinton, who took the service of Holy Communion.

When all the ladies had assembled the meeting was begun with a service of Holy Communion at 11:00 a.m. After the service the lunch was pooled and everyone enjoyed a delicious buffet luncheon.

Following the luncheon the meeting was called to order by President Mrs Halliday. Following the address of welcome Mrs Halliday said a few words and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs MacLure, who told of the work she and Dr. MacLure did among the heathen tribes of Africa. Mrs MacLure's speech was greatly enjoyed by everyone and many of the ladies had questions to ask.

After the guest speaker the main business, reports from the different W.A.A. branches and from the Diocesan board was heard. Rev. Swinton then took the chair for the election of officers.

MEETING.

The new executive consists of Mrs. Tyler Drayton Valley, president; Mrs. Kettle, Onaway, first vice-president; Mrs. Kettle, Mayrhorpe, second vice-president; Mrs. Ewart, Barreham, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Halliday thanked the past executive for their help and welcomed the new executive.

The meeting was then adjourned and the ladies enjoyed a cup of tea before leaving for home.

DRAYTON VALLEY FASTBALL LEAGUE.

Results of the games played since last week's edition are as follows:

Thursday, June 5, Supply defeated Mobil Oil 10-9.

Thus far this week Buck Creek has defeated Violet Grove, 17-6; Mobil Oil has come from behind to beat Eskimo 13-10 and Violet Grove won their first game by edging out Supply for a 13-12 score.

HARDBALL SCHEDULE MADE UP.

Next week we will have the complete hardball schedule made up, but this is the line-up for the coming week:

Tuesday, June 17, Drayton Valley (Sr's) play Violet Grove at Violet Grove.

Tuesday, June 17, Buck Creek (Jr's) will play Drayton Valley (Jr's)

Thursday, June 19, Drayton Valley (Sr's) play at Buck Creek.

Thursday, June 19, Violet Grove (Jr's) will play at Drayton Valley.

Play started last Tuesday, June 10, when Drayton Valley Sr's defeated Violet Grove, 11-2, and Drayton Valley Jr's defeated Buck Creek 7-4.

FIRE CHIEFS ATTEND CONVENTION.

Art Clauson, Fire Chief of Drayton Valley's Volunteer Fire Brigade left on June 6 to attend the Annual Fire Chiefs Convention and College held in Calgary, from June 7 to June 14. Fire Chief Clauson was accompanied by Assistant Fire Chief Don Grimmer.

The Convention and College will be held in the Fire Department Training Grounds in Calgary.

Following the week in the convention and school Mr. Clauson planned to spend a couple of weeks vacationing, part of which he planned to spend in Banff.

"BUY ALBERTA" CONFERENCE.

On Tuesday, June 17, a "Buy Alberta" conference will be held in Edmonton Jubilee Auditorium under the auspices of (next column)

the Department of Industries and Labor, of the Government of Alberta.

A lengthy agenda has been prepared and the conference will open at 9 a.m.

Object of the conference is to acquaint various groups with the many diversified products produced in Alberta and to encourage inter-provincial buying.

Groups will attend from Drayton Valley and if anyone is interested in attending the conference from Drayton Valley they may get in touch with Adrian Meiers at Insurance Building, of Bill Johnneson at the Town office.

EMOR-MCLEOD NUPTIALS.

The Drayton Valley United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding when the Rev. William Sayers read the marriage lines uniting Kathleen Ann Emor and Ross Alden McLeod in the bonds of matrimony.

The wedding took place on at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Saturday, June 7.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Emor, of Drayton Valley and the groom is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Alec McLeod, also of Drayton Valley.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride looked lovely in a waltz length white nylon gown, with finger-tip veil; she carried a white Bible with a cascade of red sweetheart roses.

Attending the bride was Miss Barbara Kinghorn, of Devon, who wore a gown of yellow net, with a blue corsage.

Best man was Mr. Lorne Beattie, a cousin of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Emor wore a coral and white ensemble with white accessories, while the groom's mother, Mrs. McLeod, chose a blue ensemble with white accessories.

During the signing of the register, and also later at the reception in Scout Hall Mrs. Margaret Haynes sang several beautiful numbers.

A large number of out-of-town guests were present for the wedding. These included guests from High River, Okotoks, Calgary and Devon.

Following a honeymoon spent at Miette Hot Springs, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod returns to Drayton Valley to make their home.

DRAYTON VALLEY HIGHLIGHTS

BY: Edith Deby.
W.I. HOLDS CONFERENCE IN DRAYTON VALLEY:
Over eighty delegates from Winterburn, Spruce Grove, Stony Plain, Tomahawk, Duffield, Wabamun, Onoway, Mayerthorpe, Cosmo, Darwell, and Drayton Valley met in the Community Hall on June 5 for the Annual constituency conference of the Women's Institute.

Mrs Miller, district convener, was chairman. Mrs Doward was recording secretary and Mrs White was in charge of registration. Mrs Pickup was pianist.

The meeting opened with "O Canada". The members continued to stand for the flag salute and the recitation of the creed.

His Worship, Mayor Pickup, addressed the conference. He welcomed visiting delegates and gave a brief resume of the history of Drayton Valley since the 5th development.

Mrs Wood, former M.L.A. for this constituency spoke of the National Convention and of her pleasure at being chosen delegate for this constituency. She also drew delegates attention to the Carolan Awards. She suggested the contest merited the attention of all W.I. branches.

Mrs Miller conducted a memorial service for all W.I. members of our constituency who had passed on since last conference. The handicraft exhibit drew many admiring comments. Mrs Malyuk, District Home Economist, did the judging and awarded the prize to Wabamun for the second consecutive year.

At noon the ladies of the Anglican W.A. served a delicious turkey dinner. During the afternoon session Mrs Robert Haynes entertained with two solos. She was accompanied by Miss Betty Walker. Mrs Pickup delighted her audience with two pretty piano solos.

Mrs Belesich will retire as district director after this year. In her address she told the delegates how much she had enjoyed her term of office and urged members to be willing to accept the responsibility of office.

The 1959 conference will be held in Mayerthorpe.

Drayton Valley welcomed a former member to the conference. Mrs Roy Burrows, now residing in Calgary, made the long trip especially to be present. It was most fitting that Mrs Burrows be here to help welcome visiting delegates for it was she who organized the W.I. in Drayton Valley. She served for three years on the executive, two as president, and one as director.

Mrs and Mrs Albert Haggren are making splendid progress with the building of their new house. It commands a fine view of the new road just west of the bridge.

Mr and Mrs Ab Oser have returned from a six week holiday in Germany. On the return trip they were accompanied by their eight year old son, Krause, whom they had not seen for six years.

Bob Surgenor is enjoying a six week holiday in his native Ireland.

The Bosworth family report a fine time during their holiday in New York.

The Trueman Frys and Leslie Herdema have just returned from a trip to Northern Alberta which included calls on Ron and Audrey Stewart at Taylor Flats and Art and Ivy Jorgenson at Bonneyville.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET.

Held in the United Church hall the evening of Tuesday, June 3, the Mothers and Daughter Banquet for C.G.I.T. and Explorers girls and their mothers was a very enjoyable affair.

Seven Explorers graduated to the ranks of C.G.I.T. as they had reached their twelfth birthdays. A very good turnout of both girls and mothers was reported.

Leaders for Explorers were Mrs Lois Ross, Miss Zetta Brown and Mrs Phyllis Argent. Mrs Peggy Tyler is C.G.I.T. leader. The banquet marked the end of the season until the 1st Tuesday in September.

Guest of honor at the banquet was Mrs Ethel Zolmer. Following the banquet a program of skits and tap dancing was put on by the girls.

VIOLET GROVE COMMUNITY LEAGUE:

BY: Stella Benko.

A meeting was held on June 3rd, and a new committee was elected. On the committee now are: Fred Schipper, president; Art Masaner, vice president; Stella Benko, secretary; Ed. Base, Treasurer. Since February when the committee was first organized a few plans have been realized.

The children's playground is located one block South West of the Post Office behind the Glen house, and is now near completion. Bee parties have been very successful in cleaning out the park and putting in the equipment. The women brought lunches, but the men say they worked the hardest. The equipment that is up at present are swings, better-toppers, sand boxes and a back-stop. Donations for slides would be very much appreciated.

The two ball diamonds are located 1 mile east of the Post-Office, on Mrs Looks farm. A bee-party was held to put up the Backstops. Violet Grove has four ball teams- Hard Ball, Men's Fast Ball, Women's softball and girls softball.

MAY MEETING OF OIL WIVES ASSO- CIATION OF DRAYTON VALLEY.

At 7:20 p.m. on May 26, the Oil Wives Association of Drayton Valley met in the Gardium Room of the Drayton Valley Hotel. Simmie Sheehan played 'O Canada' and it was sung by the members.
Jean Bosworth, president, has just returned from a 5-week vacation in Eastern Canada and the U.S. She greeted members and asked the six members who had brought guests to rise and introduce their guests. She also introduced the evening's guest speakers, Mr. Dick Bocking, District Agriculturist at Stony Plain, and Mr. A.G. McCalla, Supervisor of Horticulture for the Province of Alberta.

Grace was asked by Mrs. Ruby Halliday, and dinner was served. After dessert and a brief intermission, the chair was turned over to Program Chairman Mrs.
Danita Boling. Mrs. Boling introduced Messrs. Bocking and McCalla at more length. Mr. Bocking spoke briefly, and turned the platform over to Mr. McCalla, the evening's main speaker.

In his talk, Mr. McCalla stressed the basics of landscaping — lawn, a few shrubs around the base of the home,
(cont. next column)

one or two shade trees, sidewalk.
He discussed soil preparation, and ground preparation for grass seeding.
If at all possible, he said, the lawn should be level for ease in growing and maintaining it. Creeping Red Fescue is particularly good for this area, and a good all-round fertilizer is ammonium Phosphate 16-20-0, applied when grass is dry. For weed control in a new lawn use a lawn mower set high, he suggested, and emphasized that chemical weed-killers should not be used until the grass is well established.

There is no reason why native trees and shrubs cannot be used, if reasonable care is used in transplanting them. Deciduous trees and shrubs should be moved in early spring, while they appear dormant, and evergreens can be moved after the middle of July, when no new growth is apparent. When moving evergreens, the roots must be kept covered and damp at all times. Shrubs and trees may be transplanted in the fall, but they must be assured a month or six weeks of growing weather so that they may build a new root system. The most important thing to remember, Mr. McCalla stressed, is that the soil must be firmly packed in around transplanted shrubs and trees.
Watering is good, too, but good big feet and lots of weight is by far the most important part in firming soil around the roots.

As for sidewalks — walkers will go from here to there, so the householder might just as well put the sidewalks where the people insist on traveling.

At the conclusion of his talk, Mr. Mc-Calla asked for questions. He and Mr.
Bocking answered a variety of questions,
some of which concerned the best animals for the north sides of buildings, control of clover and dandelions, and the cause and remedy of dead spots on lawns.

The speakers left about 9:45, and after a brief intermission, the Association's business meeting was called to order.
This business meeting had been delayed
as a courtesy to the gentlemen.

Mrs. Bosworth commented on the enjoyable and informative talk, and mentioned a few organizational matters. She asked for the reading of the Minutes, and reports from Treasurer Evelyn Rundle, Historian Lois Fleming, Reservations
Chairman Hazel Charbonneau, Membership
Chairman Jane Just, and Program Chairman Danita Boling. Brief reports were also heard from Special Interest Groups chairman Doreen Barclay and Nancy Larbales-tier.

Treasurer Evelyn Rundle had moved out of town, and has found it necessary to resign her office. An election was held and Jerry Gunderson is the new Treasurer.
Several items of business were taken care of before the meeting closed at 10:45 with "God Save the Queen."

RODEO ASSOCIATION MEETS.

The executive of the Rodeo Association met for a luncheon meeting in the Gardium Room recently to start the ball rolling for Drayton Valley's third Annual Rodeo which will be staged at the Rodeo Grounds just west of Drayton Valley, August 2nd and 4th.

Topnotch performances will be featured in this rodeo, as in the past two, with the very best of riders competing in the show.

This year will feature an added attraction as the Rodeo Association has been approached by the Cutting Horse Association with regard to putting on a cutting horse demonstration along with the Rodeo.

Cutting horse competitions are growing increasingly popular throughout North America and Drayton Valley will be fortunate in obtaining the added attraction for the Rodeo events.

A group of cutting horse enthusiasts have an acreage at Entwistle, which is called the Pee Vee Ranch; last year the group had a two day demonstration and competition meet, another is planned for this year. Mr. Ross, of Edmonton, is a leading figure in the Cutting Horse Association at Entwistle.

A large number of firms and organizations have indicated their intention to put a float in the opening Rodeo Parade this year, so competition will be keen in that event.

RETIRED PRINCIPAL FETTERED.

On Wednesday, June 11, the entire staff of Drayton Valley Elementary School and High School met in the Home Ec. room to present Miss Rosa Wolters, who is retiring from the Drayton Valley teaching staff, with a lovely Aurora Borealis pendant necklace and earrings set. Tea was served for the occasion.

Mrs. Pat Moore and Mrs. H. Griesbraht acted as hostesses for the occasion, while Mrs. Glass, as senior member of the staff, made the presentation. Mrs. Forbes poured tea.

Miss Wolters, who was taken quite by surprise by the gathering, thanked the group graciously.

Other teachers present from Entwistle for the occasion were Miss Jennie Rancicki and Billy Glass. All guests present signed an autographed card to mark the event.

The occasion marked the second presentation to Miss Wolters, as the graduates presented her with a beautiful bouquet of red roses at the Graduation Banquet held on May 30.

On June 16 all the teachers also met in the Staff Room for a Shower and Tea to honor two bride-elects, Miss Zetta Brown and Miss Violet Schoen whose marriages are events of early July.

Miss Vera Kos made the presentations. Mrs. Forbes recited delightfully.

The gifts for both were two pieces of copperware. Tea was served by Miss Fries, Miss Kos and Miss Desprose.

BROWN AND ROOT CONDUCT SAFETY CLASS.

Brown and Root Construction Company conducted their first safety class for their Drayton Valley office recently with a 10-day course conducted by R. H. Brown, Safety Supervisor with Pembina Pipe Lines Ltd. Mr. Brown attended classes in Edmonton to get his Safety Instructor's diploma.

29 were enrolled in the class and final examinations were conducted the evening of June 18 in Brown and Root office.

For the final exams in First Aid Practical Examiners were Gordon Zucht, Al Home, and Roy Inkster. The examinations had two sections, the Practical and the Medical; Medical examiners were Dr. MacLure, of Drayton Valley, and Dave Walker and R. Long, of the Workmen Compensation Board.

Office Manager for Brown and Root Drayton Valley office, is Ralph Kersey. R. B. Morton is Project Manager.

DRAYTON VALLEY MOTORS ROBBED.

Breaking a window to gain entry robbers entered the building of Drayton Valley Motors one night recently.

A small amount of cash was taken from the till. Apparently nothing else was taken.
